

State of Education Funding: Alabama

MEETS CRITERIA

PARTIALLY MEETS CRITERIA

DOESN'T MEET CRITERIA

RATING		REASON FOR RATING
FUND STUDENTS ADEQUATELY
The funding formula is student-based, or weighted		The formula is resource-based
Per-pupil funding is adequate enough for all students to achieve average, national test scores		There is high percentage of students attending schools in inadequately funded districts
FUND STUDENT NEEDS APPROPRIATELY
Formula includes a weight or additional funding for students living in poverty		The formula only provides a small amount of increased funding for students from low-income households via a prorated amount based on student count
Formula includes a weight or additional funding for English learners		The formula only provides a small amount of increased funding for students from low-income households via a prorated amount based on student count
Formula includes a weight or additional funding for students with disabilities		The formula assumes a 5% SPED population, at most, for districts and provides additional funding to districts only for high-cost SPED services
Formula includes a weight or additional funding for sparse and/or isolated districts		The formula does not include a sparsity weight

Formula includes weights or additional funding for districts with high levels of concentrated poverty		The formula does not include a weight for concentrated poverty
FUND SCHOOL DISTRICTS EQUITABLY
State caps how much local revenue districts can raise to limit between-district disparities in local revenue		The formula sets a cap on local property tax rates and sets a level above which school districts may not raise property taxes without voter approval
FUND STUDENTS TRANSPARENTLY
State annually publishes information about how the funding system is designed to work in clear, plain language		The state education department publishes a school funding guide, but it is not user friendly
State reports school spending data in alignment with equity-oriented principles		The state reports are not aligned with equity-oriented school spending reporting principles
PUBLIC FUNDS FUND PUBLIC SCHOOLS
Taxpayer funds are used to maintain and support public schools exclusively		The state has various tax-credit programs that offer tax relief to parents who transfer their children from a public school to a qualified private schools or taxpayers who donate to a qualified scholarship foundation